Atlanta, GA. USA. December 29, 2023: The U.S.-Africa Trade Council, is pleased to announce the appointment of Dr. Davison Todson Gomo as Chairman, Board of Governors. Dr. Gomo is a renowned business leader with extensive experience in international trade and economic development. He brings a wealth of knowledge and experience in international trade, economics, and cross-cultural collaboration, making him an ideal candidate to lead the Council's efforts in fostering economic growth and strengthening business ties between the United States and Africa.

With a distinguished career spanning over two decades, Dr. Gomo has been at the forefront of promoting trade and investment opportunities in the African continent. His expertise in identifying market trends, forging strategic partnerships, and implementing innovative solutions has earned him widespread recognition in the global business community.

An accomplished senior executive with strong affinity for creativity and innovation, Dr. Gomo has a unique combination of business, economic and political understanding, experience and capabilities to assimilate and understand the intricate global interface between nations and economic and political systems.

Dr. Gomo holds a Doctor of Philosophy in International Business from the famous International University London, a Master's degree in International Legal Studies from the University of East London Law School, a Master's degree in Marketing from the University of North London, a Master's of Science in Education Management from the University of Greenwich, and a Master of Laws in International Law and the World Economy with a Distinction, from the University of East London Law School, among several other academic laurels.

"I am honored and excited to assume the role of Chairman for the U.S.-Africa Trade Council," said Dr. Gomo upon his appointment. "The Council has played a pivotal role in advancing trade relations between the United States and Africa, and I look forward to building upon its achievements while exploring new avenues for growth and prosperity."

As Chairman, Dr. Gomo will oversee the Council's activities and play a key role in enhancing bilateral trade, promoting investments, and encouraging technological advancements between the United States and Africa. Additionally, he will work closely with government officials, business leaders, and other stakeholders to facilitate dialogue, address challenges, and advocate for policies that promote sustainable economic development in both regions.

"We are thrilled to welcome Dr. Gomo as our new Chairman," said Titus Olowokere, Executive Director/CEO of the U.S.-Africa Trade Council. "His proven track record, extensive network, and deep understanding of the African business landscape make him an invaluable asset to our organization. We have full confidence in his ability to drive our mission forward and unlock the immense potential for trade growth between the United States and Africa." "On behalf of the entire organization, I want to extend our warmest welcome to Dr. Gomo as our new Chairman. His vast experience in international trade, extensive network, and strong leadership skills will be invaluable assets to the organization as we work to strengthen trade and investment between the United States and Africa."

Please join us in congratulating and welcoming Dr. Davison Todson Gomo to the U.S.-Africa Trade Council.
